Introduction:

Dr Rajendra Prasad Central Agricultural University has achieved significant milestones since its establishment in 2016 after conversion from Rajendra Agricultural University to the Central University. The University has developed many technologies which have potential of significantly altering agricultural landscape of the state of Bihar in particular and eastern India in general. Besides, there has been significant changes in infrastructure and overall academic environment of the university. However, the reach of information about achievements and progress of university is limited to. As the university does not have any regular public relation department as other universities have, we need to outsource this by engaging a media agency.

Thus, the university invites Expression Of Interest for engaging a media agency to manage its public relation so as to reach its stakeholders through national and digital media. Including social media. A draft for inviting expression of interest is enclosed for your ready reference.

Objectives and scope of the requirement

Dr Rajendra Prasad Central Agricultural University, Pusa Samastipur, Bihar is an institution of national importance established by Parliament of India in 2016 by upgrading Rajendra Agricultural University, Pusa, Bihar which was established as state agricultural university in 1970 by Government of Bihar. After conversion to a central university, this university has made many strides by developing technologies which align with the goals and objectives set by both Central and State Government. The major areas where the university is working are:

1. Water Positive administrative units viz., village, block, city;
2. Rural Employment Creation beyond Agriculture;
3. Circumventing Climate Change;
4. Enhancing Farmers’ Income through monetization of Agro waste;
5. Biofortified Crop Varieties to combat malnutrition; and
7. Start Up Facilitation Centre for Commercialization of technologies developed by university

In addition to these, university has taken many steps to diversify courses being offered, diverse faculty, creating infrastructure facilities, making university green, which have made this university one of most sought after university among students. The university was ranked 10th among government funded universities by India Today Group in 2020, was awarded University of Year Award 2020 by FICCI and Green Initiative University by Agriculture Today Group. To increase visibility of university across different stakeholders, i.e., Policy Makers, Academicians, Students, Agricultural Workers of state and central governments as well as private enterprises and farmers, it wants to engage a media agency. The main function of the agency will be following:

- Create a wide range of content and communications material through innovative approaches
- Plan communication programs, and carry out research into the attitudes and perceptions of the target audience, thus building a positive reputation for the university.
- Identify key areas for improvement and outline key research that may ultimately be beneficial for upcoming projects.
- Plan content and write copy for publications such as fliers and brochures, leaflets, posters, magazines, newspaper articles and blog posts.
- Arrange for spokespersons to appear on National television and radio programs.
- Develop, execute and administer advertising and promotional campaigns.
The university is in process of developing Media Centre with all requisite equipment and studio. The media agency will be expected to arrange national level press releases, electronic media coverage at national level and sufficient digital media coverage as well as social media coverage.
